

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE “STORIES FROM THE BORDER” EVENT AND LINDA ZUBA

The session begins with stories of courage and strength, faith, hope and love. Hear why children, women and men are fleeing for their lives and what happens to them once they ask for help and protection at the U.S. -Mexico border. You will also hear how you can assist asylum seekers who need help. The session will conclude with a joy-based movement practice. Combining dance, gentle yoga and the chakras (the body's energy centers) with inspiring music, this practice has a mission to spread peace, love, joy and consciousness throughout our world. (You are welcome to observe or participate.)

Linda has volunteered with the Dilley Pro Bono Project, an effort to provide legal services to immigrants at the South Texas Family Residential Center in Dilley, Texas.

Volunteers — attorneys, law students and paralegals — are asked to commit to a minimum of one week of 12-to-14-hour days. Dilley is a border community and home to the country's largest immigrant detention center. The center is designed to hold as many as 2,400 women and children as they work their way through the immigration system.

Linda currently volunteers with Border Angels in Tijuana, a non-profit organization that advocates for human rights, humane immigration reform, and social justice. This work is done in an attempt to reduce the number of fatalities along the US-Mexico border by educating and assisting the communities on both sides of the border. Linda also works with Al Otro Lado, a legal advocacy center in Tijuana.
